

ಪ್ರಶ್ನೆ.ಪ್ರಾಚೀನ ಕಾಲದಲ್ಲಿ ಕರ್ನಾಟಕ ಜನವಸತಿ ಕೇಂದ್ರವಾಗಿತ್ತು "ಎಂಬ ಮಾತನ್ನು ವಿಶ್ಲೇಷಿಸಿ.

Karna Taka has a rich history. This state, which expanded in the southern part of India, was under the rule of several dynasties that shaped the history of India. The prehistoric culture of Karna Taka is very different from that of northern India. The early rulers of Karna Taka were from the northern part of the country. BC During the 4th and 3rd centuries, parts of Karna Taka were under the rule of the Maurya and Nanda kingdoms of North India.

After the fall of the Maurya Empire in B.C. The Shatavahana dynasty came to power around 3. It is a matter of pride that Satavahanas are Kannadigas. The history of Karna Taka dates back to more than 2000 years AD. Karna Taka has been ruled by many great empires and dynasties which have contributed to its history, culture and development. Kannadigas are the lion's share of it. In all parts of India, the influence of the kingdom of kings originating from Karna Taka can be seen. Some of the special features are that the Sena dynasty of Bengal called themselves Karnataka Kshatriyas, and it was revealed that they ruled over Mithila and today's Bihar. All of them called themselves Karnataka Kshatriyas. The Chindaka Nagas of Central India, Kalinga The Gangas, the Rashtrakutas of Manyakheta, the Vengi Chalukyas of the Yadavava dynasty of Devagiri were all of Kannada origin. All of them were stalwarts who encouraged Kannada as the provincial language.

The existence of human habitation in Karna Taka is evidenced by the numerous excavations carried out here. will stop There are clear records of primitive people living in caves thousands of years ago, turning stones into weapons and making hunting their main profession. People lived in places like Kibbanahalli in Tumkur district, Brahmagiri in Chitradurga district, Hemmi Ge in Mysuru district, Tekkalako in Bellary district, Khya da in Vijayapur district, Hunasagi in Gulbarga district. All these were important centers of population. It is proud that Krishna, Ghataprabha, Malaprabha of North Karna Taka, Tungabhadre of Madhya Karna Taka played a great role. Apart from that, it is known that cultural centers have grown up. In this, Badami, Iho Le, , the banks of Kaveri Rivers in South Karnataka are many of the river banks in the historical period in Pattadakallu, Sannati, Banavasi, Srirangapatna, Hampi, Belur, Talakadu were the development of ancient human culture. the towns on the riverside or very close to the river. Mentioned in the pages of history, rivers have played an important role in the development of all cultures. Karnataka had trade contacts with the Indus Valley culture of Mohenjo Daro in what is now Pakistan, which flourished around 2500 BC and was one of the world's most significant cultures of that time. It is known that the people of Karna Taka played an important role in the trade transactions during the ancient times. In this background it is said that Karna Taka was one of the most populated regions in the ancient times, and it was the most important place in the Kannada language and the region during the ancient times. It is a matter of pride that it existed.